About MIAL

Our work matters because our members do

Maritime Industry Australia Ltd (MIAL) is the peak body for Australian maritime. We are at the centre of industry transformation; coordinating and unifying the industry and providing a cohesive voice for change. We represent our members' interests nationally and internationally, providing dedicated maritime expertise and advice. We also represent industry more broadly to promote a sustainable, competitive, and agile Australian maritime sector.

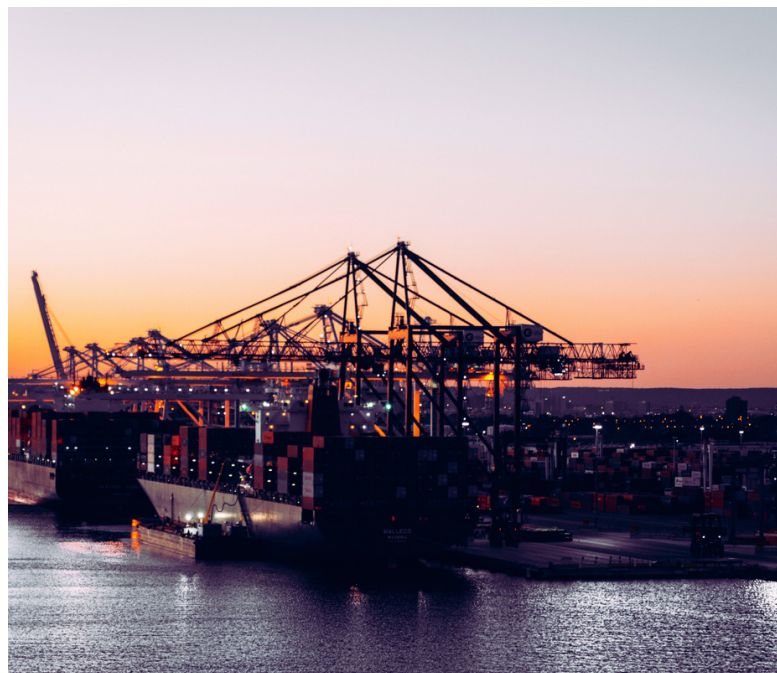

Vision & Mission

MIAL's vision

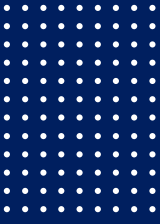

A prosperous Australia with strong, sovereign maritime capability - this is the vision that drives our work, our engagement, and how we invest our energy and resources. As an island-continent, with a rich maritime history, it is a no-brainer that maritime success is Australia's success.

Our mission for this conference

This conference is about bringing together key players from industry and government to hear, learn, and share expertise and innovation. We envisage the conversations that take place at the event to gain momentum and focus as we enter a new era of sustainability united by the common purpose of protecting and strengthening the nation's strategic maritime capability.

A flagship event

Day 1 - National Maritime Capability and Resilience Conference

The first day of the conference is dedicated to maritime decarbonisation. Plenary sessions will explore progress and developments in this fast-evolving space, as well as blueprints for how to achieve 2030 and 2050 emissions reductions. This is the place to be for organisations and individuals committed to making maritime decarbonisation a reality.

Day 2 - 4th MIAL Maritime Decarbonisation Summit

The second day focuses on the critical issues that will define Australia's maritime capability now and long into the future. Plenary sessions will explore vital topics, such as the Maritime Skills Crisis, Australia's Strategic Fleet, Maritime Tourism, and how innovation contributes to sustainability.

Speakers who demand attention

Blueprint for a Maritime Nation will feature a packed program of expert international and Australian speakers. Our past summits attracted industry and government decision-makers, and brought together leading proponents of maritime research and new-fuel technologies: this conference aims to be even bigger and bolder, with a broader scope and workshops to yield novel ideas that address the issues and challenges we must overcome in order to realise a prosperous Australia with strong, sovereign maritime capability

Collaborate for success

Social features

Two exclusive social events will provide attendees with the space and time to foster their professional relationships and further explore the issues closest to them - forging connections that ignite the vital collaborations of the future.

Sponsor benefits

Stand out, always

Each event sponsor will receive these benefits in addition to those stated in their package:
